When WE Offer An Article For Sale

And call it something, we're quite sure there's no false label on it; quite sure, indeed, that it is just what we call it, or we wouldn't expect to hold our position in the trade very long.

We haven't labored steadily well on toward the quarter century mark to reach the top in our line of business just to fool away that good name we prize so much on a game of chance like misrepresenting an article of food.

A NEW DEPARTURE!

Strangers walking through the streets of Honolulu invariably stop to look at the many photographs of island views which are displayed on almost every block. These views are usually of the same old worn-out subjects, and are invariably finished in large, expensive sizes. We have Several Hundreds of views—platinum or sepia finish—on 4x5 paper. Many of these have for their subjects scenes which have Never Been Photographed Before.

These we offer to you so cheaply that we almost GIVE THEM AWAY! Just think of it—15c each, or $1.50 per dozen. This is one of one hundred snags.

U. S. TRANSPORT SENATOR.

Arrives in Port Shortly After the

The U. S. Transport Senator arrived in port and hauled alongside the fishmarket wharf at about 2:30 yesterday afternoon. She had rough weather for three or four days after leaving San Francisco. The Senator began coaling very soon after her arrival. The intention is that she shall sail Sunday afternoon or Monday morning in company with the Ohio. There are aboard the Senator 684 officers and men, besides the wives and families of some of the officers. Included in the 684 are 164 recruits for the 18th, 20th and 23d Infantry and the 5th Artillery.

Brigadier General Egbert, in command of the expedition represented by the men in the Ohio and Senator, is aboard the latter steamer. The other officers are as follows: Col Hull, Col McCammon, Major Lockwood, wife and son, Capt J F Krepes, Capt Hodges, Capt Fitzgerald (chaplain), Lieut Gordon (quartermaster), Lieut C S Morton, P W Davison, W Chase, Capt J S Kulp, (surgeon), Lieut I W Brewer (assistant surgeon), Lieut H R Campbell, A C Dalton, C H Bridges, D S Stanley, Lieut Hall and wife, Lieut Newell and wife, Lieut H Ely, wife and family, Lieut Wassell and wife and Lieut Smith.

Mr Egbert, wife and two daughters, are passengers in the Senator.

There are four army nurses aboard. They are Mrs Eleanor, Miss Buxton, Miss J E Larsen and Miss Klein.

The Senator officers are as follows:

Capt J B Patterson, commander; C Swanson, first officer; J Bowen, second officer; T Sands, third officer; J A Dawson, chief engineer; W Chisholm, 1st assistant; H M Daggett, 2d assistant; R Donaldson, 3d assistant; Geo Hume, chief steward; J J Campbell, chief steward.

Nays He Committed no Crime.

N. P. Plunkett, arrested here sometime ago on the charge of gross cheat is quoted as follows in the San Francisco Chronicle:

"It is not true that I had no account at Bishop & Co.'s bank. I had an account at that bank running to nearly $1000, and the matter was simply an overdraft, such as is liable to occur to any one. Prior to December 1st, I had had an account at that bank running up to $505, and on December 8th I deposited at the bank a draft on the California Bank for $300. I left Honolulu September 21st for San Francisco, and at that time had overdrawn my account $105 unknowingly. I had not been notified of the overdraft up to the time of my departure. The notice of overdraft did not reach me until January 15th, for the reason that I left there the latter part of September, and that before it reached me here I was on my way back. When I deposited the draft for $300 in December I knew nothing of the overdraft and supposed I had the full amount to draw from. After I had drawn to the amount of the balance a check given to Pete Balana was returned to him marked 'No funds,' and he had me arrested. On explanation by the people at the bank and by myself I was released. The charge against H. F. Soper has also been dismissed on settlement of the amount involved."

It will be remembered that both Plunkett and Soper were found guilty of the charge and sentence was suspended one month by Judge Wilcox, with the understanding that both young men leave the town within that time.
